Losing Touch

with Nature

This program will focus on parent and toddler relationships and the effects of a positive interaction with nature, to learn what grass feels like, what it's like to hug a tree, and how to splash in the rain and mud puddles.

These are not sensations that can be learned or felt through a television set or computer monitor. Research is now suggesting that children under the age of two years of age should not be watching television for any length of time, if at all.

Sessions will be held at:

SAFFRON Centre #44,
48 Brentwood Blvd.

Or

BriarPatch Family Life
Education Centre
#100A, 50 Brentwood
Blvd.
